We build strong kids, strong families,
strong communities.

December 2002

Campers & Staff, thank you for another great summer!

Coniston is an extremely special place. New families have come to look at camp and register their son or daughter for the first time, and in the off-season silence, I am left with the challenge of painting the summertime picture of why most all of us come back year after year. Why we love camp.

Walking up to the flagpole and looking out over the calm, sparkling water simply puts newcomers into a trance. The camp is beautiful. You should see their faces when they find out that Coniston owns all the land around the lake, the buildings and the feel of camp too.

This summer you experienced a new store - remember when they see everything at Coniston - the lodge, the cabins, and the dining hall. People are really amazed, but they don't yet know the special key to Coniston.

The key is people; the friendships between cabin mates, the special staff touches they make to each camper's stay. The specific stories are different to each of us, but together we love the same place and return year after year.

The moments that are special to me were listening to the roar of excitement & surprise you made when the storm troopers entered our Sunday brunch. If I could only capture that feeling and share it with newcomers. Ahh, remembering the 2002 heat, and the lazy day schedules that everyone was excited for. Chairs, chairs, and more chairs! Where has snorkeling gone? Has anybody really seen Colin's wolverine?

And then there is the traditional stuff. Remember watching surprised staff get asked up Mount Washington and then a week later running into the lake with the entire camp cheering them on? The ice cream social, the fireworks and especially this year's triangle ceremony for 15-year Foederl are special memories for my summer.

I look forward to seeing everyone next summer. Now I leave you with one question: What should we do with all of these socks?

I need help with.

Happy New Year!

... The Coniston sun has set — it's gone

But not for long it will return

Tomorrow is another Coniston day.

— Coniston Song by J. Tilley

Boating and fishing, eating and swimming,
Running and playing, resting and singing,
Yelling and screaming, laughing and crying,
Whispering softly, thinking and sighing ...
