MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTORS

Looking back on a past camping season always has its nostalgia, but we continue to do it because the fond memories of a summer gone by are good for the soul. Certainly, the weatherman cooperated with us unless we were first period campers when we had an unusually frustrating amount of rain. Nevertheless, we had lots of fun even then.

Once again our staff did a conscientious job of providing counseling and program for almost every moment of the day and evening. The maintenance crew continued to keep our camp looking in "shipshape" condition, and our food service crew provided those much appreciated, delicious meals. This year we had the opportunity to become acquainted with some new directors of Girls' Camp, some new nurses and to renew old acquaintances with Bob Huston and the Bardens. The Loos family returned for their ninth year, longer than any other staff persons. We enjoyed a greater variety of programs than ever before and discovered some new special programs for the whole camp, including our very popular square dance night. It was a good year and it was fun.

We send fondest good wishes to Bob Huston who is getting married and starting postgraduate work; to Kathy and Noel Munday who met at Coniston and now reside in Colorado; and to Kathy and "Gus" Gustafson who moved to far-away Texas.

We look forward with eager anticipation to next season of camping because this one has been such an enjoyable experience including that historic climb up and down Mt. Washington with the CIT's. We send our best wishes for a good year until we meet all of you again in 1974.

OUR INTERNATIONAL COUNSELORS

.... Each year Camp Coniston is blessed with the presence, personality, and talent of International counselors who come to us from many different nations of the world. This year was no exception. We were indeed blessed with two fine young people, Judy Paul from Surrey, England and Jean Ranguin whose home is Martinique but who lives and teaches in France. They both came to us through the efforts of Camp America, which recruits, interviews and assigns many hundreds of foreign counselors. While at camp Judy taught tennis and Jean taught sailing and folk dancing. Both of them entered into the spirit of the camp with great enthusiasm and a great deal of talent. They gave to us their friendship and smiles. Judy hiked Mt. Washington with the CIT's and Jean visited often with the Turns family in Claremont. Judy's knowledge and ability to teach tennis was phenomenal and Jean's singing and dancing ability showed an unusual talent. In addition Jean tried to teach the director how to sail which was something that took much patience. These friends from far away shared their cultures with us all, including the Rotary Club of Newport, and gave us insight into their respective countries. We wish them much success and love and hope that they will always remember Coniston and the summer of '73. Come back and see us sometime!

FRIENDS: byCindy Mazza

Friends, they move on and you never think you'll miss them 'till they're gone. Time passes by, and those good-times linger in your mind forever. Remember how it used to be when good-time friends were there Remember how when you were down they cared And when you wanted someone to talk to Good-time friends were near But times have changed and now they've disappeared.

> When you're old, time grows short You'll think back upon the friends you left behind All those good times. All that fun is behind you but there still remains a memory.

Friends always change but those good-time friends will still remain the same.
